Fire in Eighth St. Chimney Causes Brief Excitement

Fire in the chimney of Hoffman's restaurant, 28 West Eighth St., Monday afternoon provided considerable excitement downtown. Firemen had difficulty in locating the blaze which seemed first to be coming from Fris Book store. The big 65-foot aerial truck was used and firemen using a booster pump put out the fire within a few minutes. Large sparks from the chimney had begun to ignite the roof.

When the trucks first arrived, considerable smoke swept down Eighth St. The all-out alarm rang at 2:06 p.m. Little or no damage was reported by Fire Chief Andrew Klompenberg.

Nick Hoffman, proprietor of the restaurant, said the customary amount of waste such as paper napkins, bread wrappers and other refuse, was being burned. He said there was nothing unusual about the amount burned and speculated that soot in the chimney was responsible for the blaze.

Had the fire been at Fris', Holland would be hard hit since the stock of Brink's book store, Holland's only other book store, was virtually wiped out in a blaze Saturday, July 1.

In addition to the fine and costs, Hoezee's driver's license will be revoked and his name will be placed on Holland's liquor black list.

East End Group Protests Plant's Smoke and Odor

Neal De Waard Chief Spokesman; Complaint
Handed to Committee

Common council Wednesday night considered protests voiced by residents of the east end of Holland regarding smoke and odor coming from the Holland Gas Co. and referred the issue to the civic improvements committee for immediate action. Third Ward Aldermen Bernard De Pree and Bertal Slagh who serve that part of Holland were added to the committee to work on the problem.

Neal De Waard, 261 East 13th St., representing 17 adults present at the council meeting, served as chief spokesman and pointed out the nuisance dates back perhaps as far as 20 years. He said delegations have been sent to council meetings, petitions have been signed and promises given for improvements, but with little relief. He pointed out particularly the effect of the smoke on the painting of houses and on the weekly laundry.

Earl Goon, district manager of the Michigan Gas and Electric Co., was present and said he had been of the opinion that a great deal of the nuisance had been eliminated and everything was going along well. He said, however, that repairs to equipment and other operations the past week or ten days was responsible for more smoke than usual. He said he had not been aware of any gas leaks and would have that angle checked immediately. He explained it is necessary to clean fires periodically and this operation does result in belching smoke.

Corporation Quota Is Almost Tripled In Ottawa County

Although Ottawa County has gone over its corporations bond quota about 275 per cent, Holland still remained under the 50 per cent mark in individual sales, Statistical Chairman George Damson announced yesterday.

The county's corporation quota is $1,873,000 and on July 12, sales amounted to 176 per cent of the quota. Since then, one order for a million dollars was received along with other subscriptions. Clarence Jalving, in charge of corporation sales, revealed no specific figures but said Holland would run well over a million over its assigned corporation quota of $1,016,981.52.

Individual sales in Holland Tuesday night totaled $468,035.50, still under the half-way mark of the city's quota of $968,133.60. Tuesday's sales at the four sources were as follows: People's State bank, E. $1,518.75, C. $200; Holland State bank, E. $4,368.75; Building and Loan, E. $150; post office, E. $431.25.

Residents May Sprinkle Again

The board of public works at its regular meeting Monday night decided to remove temporarily the restrictions on sprinkling which were imposed July 11. This action, which will be effective Wednesday, was taken due to improved conditions caused by rains. The board also expressed appreciation to the public for its cooperation in the conservation of water since the order became effective and requested that the public refrain from using water unnecessarily in order to help avoid future curtailments.

The order which was in effect for one week had limited sprinkling to from 6 to 8 a.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

Wounded in Leg During Invasion

Mrs. Julius Ten Cate, 606 Central Ave., received word Tuesday that her husband, 8/Sgt. Julius Ten Cate, was wounded in action July 6, his 29th birthday anniversary. He received shrapnel wounds in his legs while fighting in France and is now in a hospital in England.

He was inducted into the army June 6, 1942, and was stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., Camp Blanding, Fla., Tennessee and Arizona, where he was on maneuvers. Camp Phillips, Kans., and Massachusetts before going overseas. He is the son of Henry Ten Cate, route 6, and his wife is the former Miss Juliana Zoet. They have one son, Jack, who is 14 months.

Heneveld in B29 Raids on Japan

Capt. George Heneveld of Virginia park piloted one of the B-29 Super-Fortresses on the spectacular June 15 raid on Japan and apparently participated in the second Super-Fort attack on the homelands of the Nippons July 7. Four B-29s were lost in the first assault, only one by enemy action, and none was missing after the second raid, so he returned safely in any event, although a letter received last week by his mother, Mrs. George Heneveld, revealed that he "barely made it back" to his base in the first raid because of damage to the engines of his craft when the B-29 was caught in a monsoon.

Dated June 29, the letter revealed his part in the June 15 attack—the first on the Jap homelands since the famed Doolittle raid in April, 1942—and said his Super-Fort was being repaired and readied for "further action." This would indicate his plane was among those taking part in the July 7 bombing. The reference to "repairs" also might have meant that his B-29 was damaged by Jap anti-aircraft fire in addition to damage in the monsoon.

The Super-Forts, operating from China bases, left large portions of the Imperial Iron and Steel works at Yawata, on Kyushu, the southernmost of Japan's major homelands, in smoking ruins in the first raid. Besides attacking Yawata July 7, the B-29s blasted the Sasebo naval base, also on Kyushu, and two points occupied by the Japs in eastern China.

Capt. Heneveld's wife, the former Dorothy Den Herder, and son, George, Jr., reside on West 21st St.

He entered the service July 19 1941, following his graduation from Hope college in June of that year, and received his commission as second lieutenant Dec. 19, 1942. He was an instructor in advanced flying at Turner field, Ga., and George field, Ill., and was an instructor in B-24 Liberator training from March to November, 1943, at Smyrna, Tenn. He took his initial training in the operation of the B-29 at Salinas, Kans., and was there when he was promoted to the rank of captain Jan. 17, 1944. He was sent overseas in March.

He was born Nov. 2, 1919, in Central park and attended Lakeview and Harrington schools and Holland High school before attending Hope college.

Miss Bremer, in Italy, Promoted to Major

News that Miss Coral Bremer, 30 East 20th St., captain of the army nurse's corps stationed with the Harper hospital unit in Italy near Naples, has been promoted to the rank of major was received in Holland Monday.

Major Bremer, then a first lieutenant, served as chief interviewer of nurse's applicants when the Harper unit was organized early in the summer of 1942. The unit entered active duty July 15, 1942, at Fort Custer, was transferred later to Camp McCoy, Wis., and in July, 1943, left for overseas duty. The unit landed at Casablanca in August and spent a month and a half there, and a similar period in Oran before arriving in Naples, Italy, Oct. 28, 1943.

Miss Bremer has been head of the nurses since the unit was organized. Officially called the 17th general hospital unit, the Harper group has 105 nurses and 54 medical officers, the majority of them from Detroit.

Major Bremer entered Harper hospital in 1930 for training and was graduated in 1933. She took post graduate work at Wayne university and then served as head nurse in Harper's out-patient department until December, 1940, when she became superintendent of the McGregor Health foundation in Detroit. She held this position until December, 1941, when she received her appointment in the army service.

Two Named New Members of Soil District in County

Sinderman, Schaefer Chosen; Stegenga Is Returned to Position

Grand Haven, July 20 (Special)—William Sinderman, Robinson township, Edwin Schaefer, Chester township, and Albert Stegenga, Olive township, have been named directors of the west Ottawa soil conservation district for three years, according to official notice received by L. R. Arnold, secretary of the conservation district. The election took place June 28 and the ballots were counted by the state committee in Lansing.

Schaefer polled 69 votes, Sinderman 68 votes and Stegenga 60 votes. T. G. Chellean of Port Sheldon, a fourth candidate, polled 52 votes.

Sinderman and Schaefer as new members will replace Frank Garbrecht of Port Sheldon and Frank Hendrych of Grand Haven who wished to retire as directors. They will be the first new members of the board in six years.

Schaefer is a horticulturist and is adopting some of the newer recommendations. He is interested in strip cropping, contour farming and particularly in grass for orchards and waterways. Sinderman has changed his entire farm program and now relies on strip cropping and windbreaks to combat erosion.

The state committee in Lansing has fixed Oct. 2 as a date for a referendum in Barry county to determine whether a soils conservation district will be established in that county. If farmers approve, it will be the 21st unit to adopt the plan in Michigan.

Need Help Badly To Can Fruit at Fennville Plant

Residents of Holland and vicinity, who will have any free time during the next few weeks, today were urged to assist in processing the fruit crop at the Michigan Fruit Cannery at Fennville where a critical shortage of manpower is causing fruit to pile up in huge quantities.

Now operating 14 hours a day and processing 180 tons of fruit during that period, officials of the firm hope to operate two 10-hour shifts daily to bring the production to the plant's peak capacity of 240 tons daily. This rate of production is necessary to care for the fruit crop and to keep up with government orders, officials pointed out.

At present, facilities of the plant are turned over almost 100 per cent to the cherry crop which is so plentiful that the fresh fruit is being stored in large six-ton vats outside, with all available inside storage room filled.

Fennville residents have done their best to cooperate, with most business and professional persons and others working at the cannery four or five hours each day in what they call a Victory shift.

Local persons are asked to call at the employment service office, 10th St. and River Ave., where personnel also will assist in getting gasoline rations for travel to Fennville. If enough persons respond, the local office will arrange special transportation.

Sixty per cent of the canned fruit crop will go to the armed forces.

Hopes to Succeed Rushton, Retiring As State Attorney

GOP Nomination Will Be Decided at Party's Meet in Grand Rapids

Lansing, July 20 (Special)—John R. Dethmers, Holland, chairman of the Republican state central committee, stated Monday he would be a candidate for the office of attorney general following Atty. Gen. Herbert J. Rushton's withdrawal from the campaign this morning.

Dethmers has been identified with political factions which succeeded in ousting Frank D. McKay, Grand Rapids, from his position as Republican national committeeman at the national convention in Chicago last month.

Rushton, on the other hand, has long been known as a supporter of the Grand Rapids politician whose political downfall was brought about by a concentrated attack led by Governor Kelly and various members of the state administration. McKay has been succeeded by Arthur E. Summerfield, Flint.

Dethmers, 42, will seek the Republican nomination for attorney general at the party's state convention in Grand Rapids Aug. 1. An attorney general will be elected next November.

He was appointed chief assistant to Rushton in January, 1943, resigning this position last January to devote his time to his private law practice in Holland and to the work attached to his position as state central chairman.

He sought the attorney general nomination in 1938 but was edged out by former Lt. Gov. Thomas Reed of Shelby who had the support of the Republican gubernatorial candidate, Frank D. Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald and Reed were both elected in the November election in which Gov. Frank Murphy was defeated.

In 1940 he was a close second to Rep. Bartel J. Jonkman in a special congressional election in the fifth district for a successor to the late Carl E. Mapes.

Dethmers has served as state chairman since Feb. 2, 1942. Born in northwestern Iowa, he entered Hope college in 1921, and in 1927 was graduated from the University of Michigan law school. He began his law practice at Zeeland in 1928 and became justice of the peace in 1929. He served as city attorney in 1931 and from the latter part of the same year until 1938 he served as Ottawa county prosecutor.

He has been active in Michigan young Republican circles, and served as a member of the Republican state central committee and as treasurer of the Ottawa county Republican committee. He is a former president of the Michigan Association of Prosecuting Attorneys.

Rushton, 67, whose home is in Escanaba, took office as attorney general in 1941, climaxing a political career which brought him recognition and respect throughout Michigan.

He served 21 years as city attorney of Escanaba and for four years as prosecuting attorney of Delta county. He is vice-president of the Escanaba National bank and for the past 12 years has devoted most of his practice to corporation law.

He was a member of the state senate for three terms, retiring without seeking reelection. During the 1922 and 1929 terms he served as Republican floor leader in the senate.

In May, 1940, he was returned to state government by the late Gov. Luren Dickinson who appointed him as director of the state board of tax administration. He served in this capacity until he became attorney general.

HOLLAND A LEAKING SHIP

When a ship develops a leak the captain sends his men to the pumps. By keeping the water pumped out of the hold as fast as it comes in, the ship's master can keep his craft afloat almost indefinitely.

The occupation of Holland by the Germans, together with the wholesale destruction of Dutch pumping stations, has brought home to many non-Dutch people the fact that Holland as a nation is such a leaking ship that has been kept afloat for centuries because the clever and determined Dutchmen have succeeded in pumping out the ocean faster than it can come in. Many Americans are learning for the first time now that 40 per cent of Holland's territory lies below the water level. On this 40 per cent of Dutch soil 65 per cent of Holland's population lives.

A ship 40 per cent below the water level, with a hole in it, wouldn't last long without some strenuous pumping. Neither would Holland's 40 per cent of territory maintaining 65 per cent of its people last long without very strenuous pumping. The Nazi invaders have already flooded large areas—300,000 acres of valuable farmlands—simply by putting the pumps out of commission. The chances are that they will flood many more acres by the same simple device.

To the average person who has all his life lived in territory safely above sea level it is a little difficult to visualize the life of a people more than half of whom have always lived below sea level and who have no other idea than to continue to do so. It is to the credit of the enterprise of the Dutch people that they have been doing this for many centuries.
They literally made much of their country, creating farms out of soil that, if left to itself, would have remained ocean bottom.
They earned that land in a double sense; no people has a better right to its territory than the Dutch people; they did not steal it, as many other nations have done, they made it.

But that did not prevent the invaders from stealing it from them. The pirates have boarded the sinking ship which its crew had been heroically keeping afloat for centuries and have been blackjacking the men who were manning the pumps. Is it strange that Hollanders are planning for what they call a "hatchet day"—when each citizen will pick his Nazi and let him have it with the business end of an ax?

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Galen Glen Atkins in the Fellowship of Prayer says, "We need to get together in worship, where with a sense of need and gratitude we draw near one another in drawing nearer to God. There old friendships are hallowed and new friendships made. There prayer and praise bless the lonely, hearten the discouraged, comfort the sorrowing, and guide the perplexed."

President Roosevelt said: "Our sons... their road will be long and hard. The enemy is strong... lead them straight and true for they will need thy blessings."

In such a world as ours we can not live without the support of a like-minded comradeship in faith and hope and love. Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Woman's Part in National Life

Judges 4:1-9

By Henry Geerlings

The Bible is not a woman's record, in the sense that only a few women are written about as having arisen to national prominence.

When a woman does achieve fame in the Old Testament it is deserved. Her accomplishments merit a place in the history of Israel or it would not be there. When we find a woman like Deborah who had the patriotism, the faith in God and the qualities of leadership to put her in the forefront as a military strategist we are willing to list her among the heroes. She lived in the days of the judges, that special line of divinely chosen persons who entered on the stage of Israel's life, did their brief part and passed off, but left behind a freedom for their people.

Deborah takes her place among the great judges. Her far-sight-edness, her skill, her prophetic insight and above all her readiness to work hard for the cause she launched and fostered unite in proving that she was a leader whom God raised up.

Ehud had been a good judge, potent to hold the people true to God. He died, and Israel sinned by indifference to God. As punishment God allowed them to become vassals of the Canaanites and suffer bitterly under the iron hand of Sisera, the military head of the army of king Jabin. He knew no way of controlling Israel except by the might of superior armed forces. He had the advantage in that he could muster nine hundred iron chariots. Israel lived for the most part in lands too rough and hilly to make chariots practical. With their dominance over Israel the Canaanites imposed hard burdens, great taxes and intolerable tributes on Israel.

At length there arose a cry to Jehovah. In spite of having grown indifferent to his worship they called to him for help when they were in a crisis. Jehovah manifested his usual willingness to heed the call and came to their relief by raising up another judge. This time it was the courageous woman, Deborah.

She had won the confidence of the people by her wise advice. She was able to see into the future and plan well for those who consulted her. Her tent became a much sought place and her wisdom was accepted as dependable. She could give sound judgments when hard questions were to be solved.

But the one thing that burdened her heart was the oppression of the people. She felt called to deliver Israel from the cruelties of the Canaanites. This could not be done without battle. She needed some men to gather an army and the captain, the campaign which she planned for the overthrow of Sis-era. Barak was called. The call was given with a definite optimism. She felt sure of victory. She impressed on Barak that he was the called man of God to gather the army of ten thousand fighting men. This army was to be gathered from the tribes nearest to the Canaanites. These men would take the matter more seriously for their own lands were most marauded over by the oppressors. Barak agreed provided Deborah would stay near the army and by her presence stimulate them to faithfulness and zeal in fighting. She did this. So the army was gathered on Mount Tabor, a mountain commanding the plains and a natural fortification in itself. She timed the assembling of the men on Tabor so that it would be a rainy season. The plains would become soft and chariots would mire in the mud. She knew that Sisera would rush to a fight as he had heard that Israel had gathered an army. It all turned out as she had planned. But through it all she claimed nothing for herself.

As Deborah predicted, as soon as Sisera heard of the armed force on Tabor, he hurried his forces into the plain along the river Kishon.

Deborah was with Barak and the men on Tabor and gave the order when to attack. She saw the gathering storm and knew that the rain would soften the ground so that the chariots of Sisera would be helpless. Against the superior army of Sisera, the men of Israel rushed down the mountain into the plain. The chariots soon began to drag heavy in the mud and finally stuck so that the men had to flee from them for safety. Victory was complete for Israel. Sisera fled for his life, but was slain by a woman.

It was a thorough rout for the enemy and Israel was again free from oppression. Deborah had become the self-appointed leader and by her selflessness and faith in Jehovah delivered her people when they seemed hopeless.Attachment for Applying

Sees Van Slooten, Escaped Prisoner, in Algiers, Africa

Corp. Chester Wabeke, 26, in a letter dated July 2 to his sister, Mrs. John Otting, 165 East Fifth St., told of meeting Sgt. Louis Van Slooten the previous night on the streets of Algiers, Africa.

According to Wabeke, Van Slooten, who was a prisoner of war for more than 18 months, had escaped from a German prison camp and expected to come home soon.

The two had gone to high school together, but hadn't seen each other since they were in Ireland more than two years ago. News of Van Slooten's return to the American lines June 26 was received by his family here July 6. A wire from the former prisoner a few days later and a letter last week failed to reveal any further information. Wabeke's brief V-mail letter to his sister here was the first mention of the escape.

"I met a fellow from Holland who really can tell you a story of hardship," Wabeke wrote. "We recognized each other at once and he told me all about his experiences."

Van Slooten was taken prisoner in North Africa by the Italians in December, 1942. He was interned about 90 miles from Rome. No word was heard from him after Rome's fall in September, 1943, until the developments in June.

Wabeke's letter concluded: "The news of great importance now is that the Germans are on their last legs and the war will soon be over. Never doubt but that the Russians are lead men in this war and I am proud to find them our friends and not against the allies."

Prins Does Super Servicing of Cars

The Prins Service station, 160 East Eighth St., has given service to the automobile owners of the community since its organization in 1908 by Herman Prins and is now managed by his sons, Bud and Don Prins.

In 1930 a super service station was added to the original business which gives more complete service for the car owner. Texaco products were obtained and today all Texaco products are sold.

An internal motor cleaner is also available at the station. This machine flushes crank cases and cleans rings and cylinder walls of sludge. For a smoother running motor, this cleaner machine should be used at least twice a year, preferably in the spring and fall when changing to heavier and lighter oils.

In the years the Prins station has been operating and serving the public it has acquired many friends and has given continuous satisfactory service to a great many automobile owners.

Design Food Package For Interned Children

Holland persons may be startled to realize that American children are in German internment camps, but this fact is emphasized by the announcement that the American Red Cross is supplying special food to help them grow strong and healthy.

Mrs. J. E. Telling, chairman of the Ottawa county chapter, said today.

To meet nutritional needs of the children, the Red Cross has designed a special infant's food package shipped regularly through the international committee.

Contents of the new package include two two-pound tins of whole milk, powder, five bars of soap, seven pears of vitamins A and B, a package of cereal, tins of spinach, carrots, peas, green beans, apple sauce, liver soup with vegetables, custard pudding, apricots, prunes, pure concentrated orange juice, package of biscuits, package of granulated sugar, and a tube of absorbent. This is the sixth type package supplied by the Red Cross for prisoners of war and civilian internees in enemy hands.

Unfortunately, none of the infant food packages has reached Japanese internment camps yet because the Japanese government has refused to issue safe conduct for a Red Cross vessel to deliver them, Mrs. Telling was informed.

T/Sgt. Jack W. Ridenour, whose wife, Kathryn Ridenour, resides at 33 East 14th St., is attached to an ordnance battalion in North Africa which covers thousands of acres and carries shells of every caliber from a 22 for practice-firing to a 240-millimeter howitzer shell, a big mean looking piece of ammunition with a snub nose and no features of beauty for the enemy.

Despite the extent of the depot, it takes only a moment to locate a particular item when the call comes in from the front. The commanding officer says there's very little chance of even one small shell exploding the way men handle that "ammo." They treat it lovingly and carefully so that it will reach the front in A-1 condition to give the Jerries nightmares.

Ban Swimming At Breakwater

Swimmers at Ottawa beach were warned today by Alfred T. Sirrine, Park superintendent, that they will not be allowed on or near the rocks leading from the breakwater to the pier. A large sign, which has been authorized by the coast guard station at Macatawa park and stating that it is unlawful to swim in this area, has been placed to warn all swimmers. Crampton Wins Patent Suit in Federal Court

Grand Rapids, July 20.—In an opinion Friday, Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond upheld claims of Basil R. Crampton against the Crampton Manufacturing Co., Holland, charging patent infringement on a plumbing fixture, described as a flush valve actuating lever. Raymond stipulated that judgment follow an accounting of profits and damages and held the defendants liable for court costs.

Crampton, formerly associated with the firm, patented the device in 1941 and, according to Raymond's opinion, sole rights to the patent were returned to him when his association with the firm ended in May, 1941. The judge held that similar products of the firm "were without change in essential structure" as contended by the inventor.

104,755 "PURPLE HEARTS"

APPEAL TO YOU IN THE 5TH WAR LOAN DRIVE

WITH KNEE-CAP BROKEN and cartilage torn out, Sgt. Nicholas Miller, of Paterson, N.J., rescued two comrades under fire at El Guitar, Africa. For this heroic exploit he wears the Silver Star. Hasn't he done enough? No, he's buying War Bonds right along! Are you?

SHRAPNEL SHATTERED the knee of Pvt. Thomas Dellarossa, Trenton, N.J. He must go through life with a special leg brace. He urges you to buy more Bonds.

AN UNLUCKY SHRAPNEL FRAGMENT lodged in Pvt. Irwin Levinson's shoulder, left one hand paralyzed. You never heard shrapnel burst. Buy another Bond for a boy who did!

HIT BY SHELL QUART in Sicily; leg smashed, captured by Germans; carried two days in a jolting tank; abandoned on road; picked up by Yanks. That's the tough going that Pvt. Donat Cartier, of Derry, N.H., had. And all you have to do is buy Bonds!

WITH HIS LEFT LEG TWO INCHES shorter than his right, Pvt. Bernard Heidemann, of Chicago, will go limping through life. He stopped a German bullet in Sicily, but that hasn't stopped him from buying War Bonds. Don't let anything stop you from buying more!

COULD YOU SMILE AFTER LOSING your right eye from a shrapnel bullet, and having a compound fracture of your left leg? Sgt. Carl Funk, of Cincinnati, can not only smile, but is going to carry on in a munitions factory. It's up to you now. Buy War Bonds!

*"We Gave EYES * LEGS * ARMS—Will you lend your money?"*

TONIGHT when you go home to your family, think of the men who will never go home... who gave their lives that you might live. And think of the men who gave their eyes, arms, legs in the fight for freedom.

As you sit at home, knowing that in more than two years of war not a single enemy plane has threatened your life... think of the men who have made that security possible. And then, if you don't determine to do your full share in the 5th War Loan Drive, then maybe no appeal can reach your heart.

Four times America has asked you to do something extra to help smash Hitler and Tojo. And you have responded generously—magnificently. Now you are asked to do more than you've ever done before. Now, as our fighting men storm the bloody battlefields of Europe and the South Pacific, we must back them up as never before. This is the showdown!

Show that you care—that these thousands of brave "Purple Hearts" have not made their sacrifice in vain.

Right now—today—invest in EXTRA War Bonds—the biggest amount you can—$100, $200, $500. Some must invest thousands of dollars to put this crucial drive over the top. All must invest to the limit of their ability. It's for Invasion! It's for Victory! It's for the security of your own future.

Save FOR YOUR FUTURE WITH War Bonds

DURING this drive you may be visited by a volunteer War Bond worker. Open your door and your heart to him. Let him explain the various U. S. Government Bonds available. They are the safest investments in the world. Buy them and keep them... and you can face the future with confidence.
